Kasikornbank has been swift with recent tech innovations for its cash business

All of the bank systems and facilities are currently being migrated and designed to suit the digital trend as the conventional framework continues to be futile. In addition, it has incorporated trends in technology such as Increasing Datafication, Internet of Things (IoT), artificial intelligence (AI), Blockchains, which are turning essential to bank both from top down to the bottom and outside-in absorption. Moreover, alliance with start-ups in fintech is acknowledged, on core value, by the entire organization to be pursued consistently.

The bank leveraged technology to create a state-of-the-art platform

The bank launched its new mobile application for corporate customers in 2017. Besides the additional channels facility, the bank enhanced the system to accommodate PromptPay for Business covering cross-bank bill payment, request-to-pay feature and QR code applicable products. This generates numbers for data utilization for business development, stickiness of active accounts, wider span of business opportunities, and more competitive advantage among banks and even non-bank peers.

The bank successfully provided innovative financial solution for key industry players

The bank has secured a partnership with the biggest taxi hailing company in South East Asia. The bank won the mandate to create a Host to Host (H2H) integrated system for high volume data transfer to address the information exchange on real time basis, as well as provide facilities and a back-end system that is similar to Bill Payment so as to accommodate the company's e-wallet operating platform. In addition, the bank facilitated seamless connectivity to automate its local cash management operation.
